FAASTeam presents:

Transition Training

This presentation acquaints the audience with LOC accident experience and makes the case that effective transition training can be key to avoiding many LOC events. Suggestions for choosing a flight instructor, getting the most out of transition training and tips for avoiding LOC events are presented. To attend this exclusive event, click the link below and register TODAY.

Directions: Proceed down Col Eileen Collins Blvd. and just before you enter the terminal area the Fire Station is on the right. Free parking is available for the first come first serve basis in fire station parking lot. Once full attendees will have to use the paid parking lot attached to the airport. No refunds for parking are available.
The physical address to the station is:
110 Observation Circle
Syracuse, NY 13212
The best directions are to follow the signs to the observation area and turn right into the Fire Station lot instead of left to the observation area.
If the Fire Station lot is full, go around the circle back to the employee lot and park there.
No one should park in the observation area and leave their vehicle unattended. Security will tow any unattended vehicle. They tow first and ask questions later.
